Activity Exemplar: Create digital wireframes for a desktop screen size

Exemplar

Here is a completed exemplar of the desktop version of the digital wireframes for an online clothing store called Tee's Shirts. The exemplar contains all pages needed to complete the main user flow of selecting and purchasing clothes.

This exemplar is a completed version of the activity you did earlier in the course. Use the exemplar to compare your own work with an example that meets all the criteria. There's also an explanation of how the example fulfills the expectations for the activity that was outlined. The digital wireframes below are based on low-fidelity wireframes that were created earlier.
