

Share your observations from the mock usability study

Now that you have observed the participant videos for the mock usability study, take a moment to reflect on your observations and respond to the following questions:

What characteristics of an unmoderated usability study did you observe?

What participant videos surprised you the most?

Were there any responses that demonstrated user pain points that should be addressed? If so, what were they?