Get started with Adobe XD

You're almost ready to begin using Adobe XD! Adobe offers a complimentary subscription for all learners who have completed the first course of this program, Foundations of User Experience \(UX\) Design ↗. This free 9-month subscription gives you access to the Adobe XD design software platform, compatible with Mac or Windows, and will allow you to complete the assignments in the remainder of this certificate program.

Create an account and redeem your subscription

If you have successfully completed the first course of this program, Foundations of User Experience \(UX\) Design ↗, then you have already received an email from Coursera with the subject line "Time to redeem your reward." If you click on the link provided in that email, you will be directed to a Coursera page which will prompt you to redeem your reward on the Adobe XD website. Once you create an account using your email, you'll have access to a 9-month complimentary subscription to Adobe XD.

As a reminder, this offer is exclusive to Google UX Design Certificate learners, and you cannot resell, loan, or share this subscription. After qualifying learners complete Course 1 they will receive an email, and a Coursera message with offer redemption instructions.

If you already have Adobe Creative Cloud installed on your computer, you can download and install Adobe XD by logging into your account and following the instructions.

For device compatibility, review the system requirements ↗ for Adobe XD.

Note: Adobe XD works on all computers except Chromebooks. If you are using a Chromebook to complete this certificate program, you will design a responsive website in Figma instead of Adobe XD. There are more details in this reading ↗ to help you get started.

If you get an error message, go to the Adobe help page ↗ for guidance and information about downloading the software to your device.
