

1.

Reducing bias is one of the many important responsibilities of UX designers. The goal is to create products that connect with diverse audiences. Taking into consideration the concepts and ideas you've learned so far, reflect on the following questions:
How might you avoid or reduce introducing bias into personas?
Are there methods you could employ?