

Share your course experience

At this point in the program, you've completed three projects and have included them in your online portfolio. You've made final adjustments to your portfolio to prepare for job applications and you've received tips to be successful in interviews. You've also learned about freelancing. Now, you're ready to apply all of your UX design knowledge in the real world. Take some time to reflect and share your experience in the course:

What stood out to you the most and why?

What do you plan to take away from this course and how will you apply it to your experience as a future UX designer?
