Share your course experience

Throughout this course you've learned about conducting UX research and testing initial concepts. You covered UX research studies, usability studies, analyzing data, presenting your findings, and so much more. Reflecting back on everything you've learned, answer the following question:
What have been the most interesting and the most challenging things you've learned so far in this course?