Share your problem statement

Now that you've created your problem statement for your portfolio project, consider the following questions in the discussion forum:
Did you use the five Ws framework for problem statements?

Does your problem statement establish project goals, identify constraints, define deliverables, and create benchmarks for success?